RE: Rachel Nabors

I am honored to recommend Rachel for your graduate program. I have had the opportunity to watch her grow and develop and have been amazed. Rachel has so much untapped potential. She has a variety skills that make her a valuable candidate. Rachel started off in our company at an entry level position and has moved into a position of leadership in a field where she initially lacked experience. This advancement demonstrates her abilities and strength to excel in areas where she lacks experience. As a graduate student I am sure she will do the same. In closing once again I am proud to recommend her to your graduate program.
